REMARKS

by EU High Representative Catherine Ashton after her meeting with SoS John Kerry in Brussels

"Thank you. Just to say this is a great partnership and the work that we do between the European Union and the US on so many issues - of which Iran is one of the greatest examples but it’s not the only example - is crucial.

We share the same values. We work together to try and deliver for people across the world and I know that, as we think about some of the issues and challenges we’re facing right now, this partnership is going to be even more important in the future.”
