Other areas of EU – Bhutan cooperation

The European Investment Bank and the Kingdom of Bhutan signed a Framework Agreement in 2014 under which the Bank can finance capital investments in the country mainly related to climate change mitigation and adaptation or the development of sustainable economic infrastructure.

Bhutan's Royal University also takes part in the global student and researcher exchange programme funded by the EU, Erasmus Mundus. Through Erasmus Mundus, over 142 students from Bhutan have been given the opportunity to study at European Universities in the last 10 years. They have been hosted at universities in 16 of the 27 Member States of the European Union.

There are many other EU thematic and regional programmes successfully running in Bhutan such as the sustainable consumption programmes under SWITCH Asia; Rural Livelihoods and Climate Change Adaptation in the Himalaya (a 5-year programme focused on climate change adaptation in eight Himalayan countries); capacity building for disaster risk management and risk reduction; as well as health programmes (particularly on avian flu).

In June 2015, the Prime Minister of Bhutan, Mr. Yonchhen Tshering Tobgay had visited Brussels at the invitation of the President of the European Commission, Mr. Jean-Claude Juncker to participate in the European Development Days. This was the first-ever visit of a Bhutanese PM to the EU.

About the European Union (EU):

The EU, which consists of 28 countries, has the world's largest economy and its third largest population, after China and India. Though richly diverse, the countries that make up the EU (its 'Member States') are all committed to the same basic values: peace, democracy, the rule of law and respect for human rights. They have set up common institutions so that decisions on matters of joint interest can be made democratically at European level. By creating a frontier-free single market and a single currency (the euro) which has been adopted by 19 Member States, the EU has given a significant boost to trade and employment. It is also at the forefront of policies on sustainability.
