20.10.2015	FIN	Two Russian "journalists" have concentrated in their work releasing disinformation pieces about Finland.  First of these two is Nadezda Jermolajeva, who had studied journalism also in Finland for a year. As an example, she wrote on October 13, 2015 that Finnish journalists would get fired because of their opinions, especially for those that are differing from the "official line", which she states to be pro-West, pro-NATO, and against Russia. This piece was published by Российская газета: http://www.rg.ru/2015/10/13/zapret.html . She has also written several fictitious stories on how Finnish officials take children away from their Russian mothers, see http://www.rg.ru/2012/10/12/finny.html .  Second of the journalists, Dmitri Jermolajev, husband of Jermolajeva and a persona non grata in Latvia, has been the editor for Rossiiskie Vesti (Российские Вести). He has been for example behind a story, where he states Kokoomus (centre-right party) is a revanchist movement and that Finland has become in breach of Paris peace treaty of 1947 by buying military equipment from Germany, and increasing the collaboration with NATO. This view was also echoed by his wife in Rossiskaja Gazeta, see: http://rg.ru/2015/05/19/tanki-site-anons.html . Both of them seem to forget that the articles concerning military equipment were nullified already back in 1991.		http://www.verkkouutiset.fi/kotimaa/iinfosota%20nadezda%20jermolajeva-42242	analyst Pasi Eronen reporting about Saara Jantunen's recently released book Information War (in Finnish).
