24.10.2015	HUN	Jimmy Carter, former president of the USA supports Russian intervention in Syria	http://bit.ly/1X2emKU	Carter said he had offered to provide Russia with accurate maps of Syria so its pilots could actually target Islamic State positions in the country—rather than U.S.-backed opponents of President Bashar al-Assad. http://theatlantic.com/1Yd46CZ	Political Capital Institute

29.10.2015	HUN	The migration crisis diverts attention from "American invasion" of the Baltic states and Poland. The American forces will swarm the European side of the Russian border.	http://bit.ly/1Yd4obW	Although new NATO outposts will be or already was established in Estonia, Latvia, Poland, Romania and Bulgaria, those will host only a few dozen military personnel. For the alliance, the new outposts are meant to establish a NATO presence without violating its 1997 promise not to permanently station troops on Russia's borders. http://on.wsj.com/1OccNa0	Political Capital Institute
31.10.2015	HUN	A recent poll carried out by France's Le Figaro newspaper has indicated that at least 72 percent of respondents want Syrian President Bashar Assad to remain in power.	http://bit.ly/1X2fxtT	The result of the "poll" cannot be generalized since it was a "Friday online poll" by Le Figaro, which was not representative of the French public. For example, by way of contrast in a survey of 1,103 French people carried out by pollster BVA, 55 percent said they would support French action in Syria compared to 64 percent who were against in 2013. http://reut.rs/1SvGhU6	Political Capital Institute
06.11.2015	SWE	The Dutch MH17 investigation is biased, anti-Russian and factually inaccurate. (Article in a series of four parts)	http://bit.ly/1PKjblo	Claims that the carefully conducted investigation by the Dutch Safety Board is inaccurate are refuted by the Dutch Safety Board's own reports – the full report of the investigation and related material can be read here: http://bit.ly/1nRiUCw	Anke Schmidt Felzmann, Swedish Institute of International Affairs
07.11.2015	SWE	It is not the border between Norway and Russia that is problematic for Norway, but the border with Sweden and Finland. The refugees arriving from these two countries, in contrast to those arriving from Russia, are not duly registered. Russia is the law abiding neighbour, whereas the EU member states' handling of the refugee flows is "a mess".	http://bit.ly/1NWq9Kh	The fact that refugees go just one way – into Norway but not into Finland – would suggest (according to Norwegian police and border guards) that the flow is somehow controlled: http://bit.ly/1LhUv3v  Finnish media also report that Norway has substantial problems with the flow of refugees coming from Russia, and that there are discussions about the need to stop the flow of refugees from Russia: http://bit.ly/1Nzt7Qj	Anke Schmidt Felzmann, Swedish Institute of International Affairs

07.11.2015	NOR	Estonia is infringing on media freedom with the ban of Rossiya Sevodnya and that this is not the first time Estonia is breaking the rules and preventing Russian media from broadcasting in Estonia.	http://bit.ly/1j3nq4S	A commercial bank in Estonia applied EU sanctions and froze the assets of Rossiya Sevodnja. This legal case is based on COUNCIL REGULATION (EU) No 269/2014. The complaints follow the launch of a new Estonian-run TV channel in Russian on October 16, ETV+ which is to serve as an alternative source of Russian language news for Russian-speaking Estonians, thereby competing directly with Russia's own, state-controlled TV channels in Estonia: http://bit.ly/1Yd5a8X Worth noting is that Estonia's Internal Security Service KAPO noted already in its report of 2013 http://bit.ly/1HP8uTu and 2014 the problems associated with Russian state-controlled propaganda media, and described Rossiya Sevodnya in Estonia as one part of the Russian influence operations: http://bit.ly/1HjO2HF	Anke Schmidt Felzmann, Swedish Institute of International Affairs
08.11.2015	SWE	"More and more Georgians are governing Ukraine", and that this is a problem for Ukraine because this "Georgian community" in the Ukrainian leadership is on the Interpol search list and maintains ties with Chechen terrorists.	http://bit.ly/1MRd6om	German media reports described the opposite, namely that those Georgians involved in Ukraine's reform process are implementing very strict reforms – that these changes and reforms are however "not to everyone's liking" is strongly emphasized: http://bit.ly/20WKrZs	Anke Schmidt Felzmann, Swedish Institute of International Affairs

08.11.2015	RUS, UKR	Ukrainian nationalists were never independent, they had to be guided by the Austro-Hungarian Empire, by the German fascists, by the Americans.
