Following the adoption of the latest support package on 4 December 2014 the allocation of the European Union and its 28 Member States now surpasses €3.2 billion in response to the conflict in Syria and its spill-over into neighbouring countries – almost €1.65 billion through the various instruments of the European Commission and more than €1.55 billion from the 28 EU Member States. While the bulk of the funds are committed to humanitarian interventions inside Syria, an increasing amount goes towards alleviating the pressures in neighbouring countries, Lebanon, Jordan, Turkey and Iraq.

LEBANON SPECIFIC NUMBERS

Out of the 3,934,891 Syrian refugees in the region by 18 March 2015 (registered or awaiting registration by the UNHCR) 1,187,407 have requested assistance from UNHCR in Lebanon (regularly updated numbers can be found on <https://data.unhcr.org/syrianrefugees/regional.php>).

In addition there are more than 44,000 Palestinian refugees from Syria. The number of Lebanese returnees is estimated at around 17,500.

So far, the European Commission has allocated €449.4 million to the response in Lebanon:

- €277.1 million has already been allocated through the European Neighbourhood Instrument - ENI (formerly called "European Neighbourhood and Partnership Instrument – ENPI") and the Instrument Contributing to Stability and Peace – IcSP (formerly called "Instrument for Stability – IfS") budgets focusing on assisting Lebanese structures respond to the crisis.

- The Directorate General of the European Commission for Humanitarian Aid and Civil Protection (ECHO) has so far pledged and contracted €172.3 million for humanitarian assistance in Lebanon.
