Statement by Connie Hedegaard, European Commissioner for Climate Action, on India and China backing the Copenhagen Accord

The European Commissioner for Climate Action, Connie Hedegaard, said: "I welcome the announcements by China and India on their association with the Copenhagen Accord. This underlines the support of these two key countries to find a global solution to climate change under the UNFCCC. We must now work to anchor the Copenhagen Accord in the UN negotiating process and I expect India and China to help us benefit from the progress made in Copenhagen. With the support of India and China, I believe we can achieve concrete results in Cancun. I look forward to working closely with these two countries".
