

QUARTERLY NEWSLETTER DELEGATION OF THE EUROPEAN UNION TO ZAMBIA AND COMESA

January – March 2016

EDITORIAL

BY AMBASSADOR ALESSANDRO MARIANI

I am pleased to launch the Newsletter of the Delegation of the European Union to Zambia and COMESA. The Delegation is responsible for managing relations between the European Union (EU) and Zambia and with the Common Market for Eastern and Southern Africa (COMESA).

Before entering into the presentation of this issue, I wish to provide a brief background on the Delegation.

The Delegation was opened in 1975 following Zambia's signing of the first Lomé Convention. Since then, Zambia and the EU have established a solid, dynamic and widening partnership. Our partnership is excellent and covers political, economic, trade, development and sectoral subjects. Over the years our partnership has become very comprehensive and is what we describe as a 360 degree partnership.

The Delegation plays an essential role in providing information on the policies and institutions of the European Union. In doing so, the Delegation works closely with the EU Member States' Embassies permanently resident in Zambia, namely Finland, France, Germany, Ireland, Italy, Sweden and the UK, and all the other EU Member States.

As one of the most important development partners of Zambia, the European Union has a significant development cooperation programme with the country (484 Million Euro under the 11th European Development Fund to be implemented until 2020). Zambia has enjoyed a long period of political stability and economic growth, and continues to show much potential. Despite this, the proportion of people living in poverty remains substantial and income inequality remains today one of the highest in the world.

In its relationship with Zambia, the EU's overall goal is to help Zambia chart a course of equitable and sustainable growth, anchored in principles of good governance, through three mutually reinforcing objectives:

- To help Zambia further refine, advance and consolidate its democracy;
- To help set Zambia on a growth pathway that is economically sustained and environmentally sustainable;
- To help Zambia translate its economic growth into development gains for all its citizens;

In addition the Delegation of the European Union in Lusaka has a pivotal role in the relations with COMESA, one of the most successful experiences in terms of economic integration in the African continent. We enjoy excellent relations with COMESA with whom we are working closely sharing the experiences that the European Union has gained over more than 50 years since its establishment.

In the present issue of the Newsletter we have taken the opportunity to inform about EU local statements issued during the reporting period and to inform you about the views of some beneficiaries of our development efforts. The purpose is to show some of the activities in the field of development, but also to demonstrate their impact at the level of the individuals.

In addition, you will find useful information of consular character as well as an update on the activities planned for the upcoming 1st Europe Week in Zambia.

I hope you will enjoy the reading. Should you have ideas, or contributions for future issues, you are most welcome to contact our Press and Information Section.

Thank you.

LOCAL EU STATEMENTS

LOCAL EU STATEMENT

The Delegation of the European Union issued the following statement in agreement with the EU Heads of Mission in Zambia.

"The year 2016 is an important year for Zambia, characterized by a number of challenges, and opportunities as well.

This is the year where, after having passed into Law the Constitutional Amendment Bill, Zambia has the opportunity to complete the Constitutional review process, and where Zambia can further consolidate its tradition and reputation for democratic elections. The year 2016 can also be the year where Zambia capitalises on its status as a regional role model for peace and stability and engages further on the regional and international scene.

The European Union and its Member States very much value the close and friendly relationship with Zambia, and we confirm our commitment to support Zambia in its endeavours to address its current challenges, such as the economic situation and the energy crisis which have hit the country.

We confirm our confidence in the Electoral Commission and its capacity to successfully organise the upcoming elections on 11 August which we hope, in accordance with Zambia's tradition, will be free from violence and fully respecting fundamental democratic rights such as freedom of expression and freedom of assembly.

QUARTERLY NEWSLETTER DELEGATION OF THE EUROPEAN UNION TO ZAMBIA AND COMESA

January – March 2016

These are fundamental principles we share and which are amongst the priorities of the European Union's foreign policy in the world. We are always interested in a level playing-field and never support any partisan position.

The European Union looks forward to continuing its strong partnership with Zambia, and to further enrich it in the fields of development cooperation, trade & investment, as well to pursue our fruitful political dialogue with all stakeholders – among them Government, opposition parties, civil society organizations in the mutual interest of Zambia and the European Union."

LOCAL EU STATEMENT ON POLITICAL VIOLENCE

The Delegation of the European Union issued the following statement in agreement with the EU Heads of Mission in Zambia.

"The EU Delegation and the Heads of Mission of EU Member States are deeply concerned by the recent incidents of politically motivated violence in Zambia. The absence of violence is required to guarantee the Zambian people their democratic rights to free, fair and peaceful elections. Moreover, preventing such incidents will strengthen Zambia's international reputation as a peaceful, stable and tolerant country and its stance as a destination of choice for foreign investments and tourism.

The EU Delegation and the Heads of Mission of EU Member States appeal to the leaders of all political parties to come together to make a firm and public commitment to reject violence, thus fulfilling the expectations of the peace-loving Zambian people who reject violence in all its forms.

The EU Delegation and the Heads of Mission of EU Member States call upon the Authorities to adopt a policy of zero tolerance towards all attempts by so-called party cadres to solve political differences by resorting to violence, to thoroughly investigate each case of political violence, and to bring to justice all perpetrators, regardless of their political affiliation."

VOICES FROM THE FIELD

A FIRMER FUTURE FOR FAMILY PLANNING IN ZAMBIA'S REMOTEST COMMUNITIES

Marie Stopes Zambia's innovative family planning project based in Muchinga Province, started in early 2013 and came to an end in December 2015; it is one of the EU's most successful small projects in recent years.

Safer Motherhood Action Group Volunteers, Mwika, Chinsali District.

These community health volunteers are at the heart of the project's efforts to raise awareness in underserved communities. Why do they volunteer? One female member (pictured above) said: "We help provide guidance and help others to get access to good quality services. We educate mothers about the complications which can happen after birth, especially those having a lot of children."

A male member of the group said: "It is about the community; often the ones we are giving advice to are our own relatives and friends"

Dr Erwin Nyirenda, Acting Provincial Medical Officer, Muchinga Province

Dr Erwin said this about the project: "There is a change of attitude for married women to be accepted to search out family planning services. What the EU is doing with Marie Stopes is really giving us a hand with reducing maternal morbidities."

Chief Kopa said: "We are trying to learn a new culture here. When I patrol the villages and fishing camps in my chiefdom, I meet the headmen, the teachers, the clinic workers and the court and I talk to them all. We sensitise the people to family planning, and we talk to the men in a polite way to explain the benefits. I tell the men: a mother having another child while breastfeeding is bad for health. We believe in quality, not quantity!" Further reading

Julia Ross, Senior Programme Manager, Marie Stopes(MSZ) Zambia

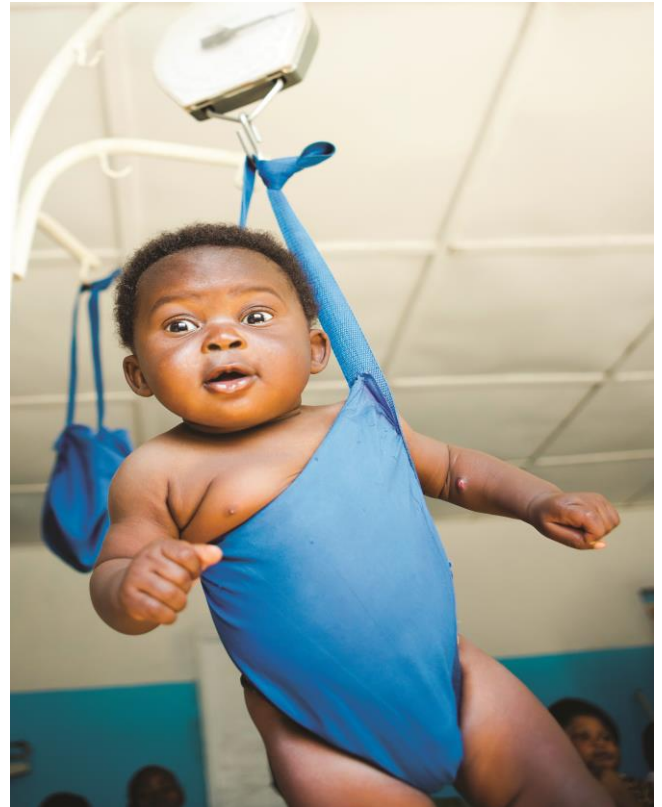

"The EU support has assisted MSZ to create an enabling environment for family planning in Muchinga Province, and MSZ plans to continue delivering life-saving contraceptive services within the province even after 2015. The support of the local actors and the huge interest of the population in accessing these services ensures lasting impact beyond the life of the project."
