Scholarships for Moldovan nationals who are in particularly vulnerable situations due to social and political reasons are available within the EU-funded project “Erasmus Mundus Partnership for Belarus, Ukraine and Moldova (EMP-AIM)”. The above-mentioned project is funded under the Erasmus Mundus Action 2 Programme and nationals of Moldova who are in particularly vulnerable situations due to social and political reasons belong to a priority group of applicants (Target group III). The scholarships will cover subsistence allowance, travel, insurance and participation fees for undergraduate and master students from Moldova to study at 8 European Universities within the project “Erasmus Mundus Partnership for Belarus, Ukraine and Moldova (EMP-AIM)”. There is 1 scholarship (34 months) for Bachelor degree studies and 1 scholarship (22 months) to complete Master degree allocated specifically for Moldovan Target group III applicants.

The call for applications specifically for Target group III applicants has been extended by the EMP-AIM project partners and is open until 18 May 2012. Therefore, we kindly ask for your assistance to disseminate information about available Erasmus Mundus scholarships to any individual, NGO and other organizations that might have access to Target group III potential applicants. For this purpose, please find enclosed a poster of the EMP-AIM and announcement about the extended call for applications for target group 3 candidates.

EMP-AIM project is carried out by a Partnership of 17 Universities from European countries, Belarus, Ukraine and Moldova, which aims to build a structured and sustainable cooperation between the involved universities and thus to strengthen academic, cultural, economic collaboration between the European and Eastern Europe region countries. Detailed information on applications and the project is available in the project web-site http://emp-aim.mruni.eu.
