Declaration by the Presidency on behalf of the European Union on the formal abolition of the death penalty in the State of New Jersey, USA

The European Union warmly welcomes today's signing of bill S-171 by Governor Jon Corzine. His signature, passing the bill into law, heralds the abolition of the death penalty in the State of New Jersey.

The European Union believes that elimination of the death penalty is fundamental to the protection of human dignity, and to the progressive development of human rights.

The European Union is unreservedly opposed to the use of the death penalty under all circumstances and has consistently called for the universal abolition of this punishment.

P R E S S

There is no evidence to suggest that the use of the death penalty serves as a deterrent against violent crime and the irreversibility of the punishment means that miscarriages of justice - which are inevitable in all legal systems – cannot be redressed. Consequently, the death penalty has been abolished throughout the European Union.
